The China Itlant.

HONGRONG, FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1886.

WE publish, in another column, a very intelligent and sensible letter from San Francisco, on the bearings of the persecution now being carried on against the Chinese residents in that city. The communication is most opportune, coming as it does while the interest felt March 2. here in the more recent anti-Chinese riots in California is probably at the keenest: To-day's telegram clearly shows the gravity of the situation, and no one with any notion of fair-play can question for a moment that President Cleveland, if it be true that he has simply refused to entertain the demand for an indemnity, has placed himself honeexpected here on or about the 11th open ports, while the United States to the Chinese. But treaties are treaties, at six o'clock this evening. and the United States has of late years posed before the civilised world as the era of Burlingame, and of his peaceful Canada, Honolulu, Peru, &c., which mission of friendliness and froth, appears to have passed away; and the United States Government seems now to be started in Canton. to stand upon a platform very similar to that which is usually occupied THE U.S. S. Omoha arrived at Shanghaiby nations that are looked upon as too ignorant or too barbarous to know better. Some persons may be inclined to smile incredulously at the fears entertained by the Viceroy of Kwangtung that reprisals may be attempted by the next English mail on board, left Singapore Chinese. But such reprisals as those yesterday at o p.m. for this port. hinted at are precisely the kind of indirect acts of vengeance most likely to suit the peculiar character of the Chi nese, and unfortunately they generally lead to a war against Europeans of a nationalities. If President Cleveland, has arrived at Yokohama, and will sail for by the almost incredible decision with this port to morrow. which he is credited, lays it down as a principle that residence in a country does not involve protection, what then, it may be asked, are the conditions upon which the American citizens reside at the Open Ports of the Chinese Em- Waterford, N. Y., U. S. A. pire? Mr Cleveland's reported attitude is so entirely folse that we cannot for a moment believe that it is likely to be upheld, or persisted in. It is so utterly at variance with the traditional policy adopted by the United States towards the Chinese Government, that it is difficult to believe in so sudden a reversal, -merely upon the ground that Mr garden parties will, until further notice, Cleveland is atraid of the hoodlum ele- be changed from Monday to Friday. Inment in the State of California. In the nises, light of the remarks made by our San the latter days Francisco correspondent, such a poncession to the pernicious rule of the bood-

champion of treaty rights and conciliation, as opposed to the uncultivated

lums will react most disastrously upon all concerned, Americans as well as rently at present masters of the situation, and their cry that the Chinese must go is being accompanied by pillage, destruction, and even bloodshed. known that the President declines to indemnify the antierers, and practically relegates the Chinese to the tender mercies of the ruffenly lower-classes of San Francisco, we would rather not dare to describe. The State authorities as well as the Central Government, have all along been too lenient with the low-class ruffigns who have commitcutions of the inoffensive Chinamen have been mased almost without a word; and legislation to restrict the Chinaman's privilages and to reduce the numbers of immigrants has gone along side by side with the most diegraceful note of violence and insult. An act of murder and outrage committed intely by a Chinaman in the State of Culifornia may have given a temporary. impetus to the lawless proceedings of the lower orders. But such instances of Celestial barbarity are fortunately of rare occurrence, and cannot be taken as justification for the action of the anti-Chinese mob recently reported. It is sincerely to be hoved that the European Representatives in this part of the world will be on the alert, in order to check any signs of reprisals here, in Canton, or in any of the Coast or Northern Ports. The Chinese mob, although more intelligent and discriminating now than it was fifteen or twenty years ago, is still inclined to include every European nation under the convenient term of 'lan yau,' or foreigner. Besides, while it is but just to say that the Chinese Government would be justified in making reprisals for the lawless doings in California, it would be subject for the deepest regret were such retaliation to take the form

IN AMERICA. In consequence of the organised sgitation against the Chinese, the Chinese Govern-

President Cleveland has refused to entertain the demand, and the Governor of Canton has telegraphed to the Chinese Minister at Washington, pointing out that he entertains grave fears that, if the demand is not complied with, the Chinese will threaten reprisals.

> THE CRY IN CALIFORNIA THAT THE 'CHINESE MUST GO.'

(From a Correspondent.) San Francisco, Jan. 29. You will have heard of the lawless agitation against the Chinese on this Coast. There are about 50,000 who speak the Cantonese and branch dialects at present residing in this State. In this city they are about one-eighth of the population. Of course restriction in some form was needed. One cannot live on this coast without feeling that. The Mongolian is not the class of colonist that America wants. He comes back up her claim by a fleet of corvettes. here with no intention of settling down, but simply to make money which he sends | who love peace. to, and spends in, his own country. (I know some Americans, by the bye, who do the same thing in China). But the great crying sin in the eyes of a Yankee is that these Chinese despise or affect to despise American institutions and look upon the people of this great land as a race of utter barbarians. In A word they do not and will not assimilate with the people. They dress in their national costume and perpetuate their national customs and idolatrous rites. It is hardly likely that ficial goes, some one must necessarily take any civilized city would tolerate the periodical idol processions, the deafening tomtoming, screeching of discordant pipes and general hullsbaloo that is kicked up in the atreets of this city. Besides this there is their cheap labor. When it is considered that the mills, and factories, laundries and other industries are run almost entirely by Chinese, and that hundreds are employed as farm laborers, woodmen, and domestic servants, it will be seen that such competition makes it hard for the white working classes. The Restriction Act was a neces-Liberal Party and the country generally, and doubtless has also proved himself to be sity, unless this coast became a dependency of China. That Act, in spite of the wildest statements to the contrary, har worked well, and there are to-day 25,000 less in the country than before the Act was passed What more can be reasonably demanded, or why the law should be made more rigorous, I don't know. That the time has come when the people here can dispense with John's services I very much doubt. Without the Chinese it would be impossible to develope the agricultural, mining, and pean laborers are so exorbitant that Calisides this, the dishonesty, drunkenness, and domestic servants are so unbearable that the Chinaman is driven out. Yet the respectable people of California submit to the domineering of the mob that cry the Chinese must go. The Times says: * It will be the duty of all who regard patriotism more than party attachments to maintain unflinching resistance to measures of such government as that now threatened, and to wage against it till the Commonwealth has been delivered from operil greater than any that has impended over England for seventy

The Post, in its vexation, calls Collings The Chronicle denies to the Irish the victory acknowledged by the Post, and this in face of the fact that while the majority was seventy-nine the Irish members cast eighty-two votes. The Telegraph dubs the outgoing Ministry

The Standard says: The political out London, January 27.—The crisis excites but little interest among the general public. Everything is quiet, and the commercial members of the new Usbinet, although thinks the appointment of Lord Granville from the Liberty party and the country.

The Telegraph says Sir Charles Dilke will be offered a seat in the new Cabinet, but that he will ask to be excused until Crawford scandal suit has been settled. London, Jan. 27 .- The Sta dard says Chamberlain will be the Irish Secretary in the Gladstone Cabinet. It says also the resignation of the Tory Government. London, Jan. 27 .- The Pall Mail Gazette. in a eading editorial, points out as a sombre concident fact that the Salisbury

R. P. Brett, Sir George Russell, Lord the country be taken I have no doubt that Roseberry, Lord Hartington and Mr a Liberal majority pledged to home rule Parnell. Ruseberry, the Gazette thinks, will be returned, for when once the laberal. should be made Colonial Secretary: Har leaders, Gladstone especially, accent home His Lordship after bearing all the svide tington Foreign Secretary, in place of Lord rule as the policy of the party the rank and Derby. Granville, who filled the office in I file will quickly follow the lead.

the last Gladstone Cabinet, and the Earl of Kimberley, the former Liberal Secretary for India, should, the Gazette maintains, be excluded from any future Government the Liberals may be called upon to form. Mr. Parnell, the paper continues, will in any event be virtually its Chief Secretary for Ireland, and he might as well be taken into the Cabinet first as last. In conclusion the Gazette says: 'If Mr Gladstone will form a Cabinot of the material suggested, he will secure for himself the prospect of a strong and stable Government.

London, January 27th .- The Globe (Conservative) says: It is rumored that Mr Parnell has resolved to use the Home rule vote to overthrow Mr Gladstone the first opportunity which presents itself. Should the Liberals assume power. Mr Parnell will do this for the purpose of exhibiting to the Irish abroad his power in order to stimulate donations to the Parnellite trea-

The Globe is also authority for the statement that Mr Gladstone's new Cabinet will be mainly radical, and that it will introduce a measure of English and Irish land policy designed to settle the Irish question without conceding Home rule in any form. In this way Mr Gladstone hopes to obtain support both from the Radicals and Parnellitos.

Lord Salisbury is anxious to acquain the country with the nature of the Irish policy which he intended to pursue if he had remained in power, and will probably we him an opportuntity to unfold his intended treatment of the Irish question. London, January 28 - The greatest reticence upon the part of the Irish members with regard to the defeat they had inflicted upon the Government is maintained, but the Ulster-Tory members were profuse in their geremiads, prophecying famine, bloodshed and social disaster.

The Times has a leader on the text. The one great factor in the existing altuation is the determination of Mr. Parpell to make the iron enter the souls of the English politicians.

London. January 29.—The Ousen has accepted the resignations of Lord Salisbury and his Cabinet, and has summoned Mr. Gladstone for consultation. Previous to Mr. Gladstone being summoned, it was reported that the Queen hesitated between the ex-Premier and Lord Hartington, and had ordered the Ministers not to surrender their seals of office.

Mow York, January 29 .- The Herald's cable says ... The Telegruph begins its leader with the question : Will Mr. Parnell be a momber of the new Cabinet? The question sounds startling at first sight, yet we mean the inquiry all in good faith. To devise a plan for Home Rule, and in it to ignore Mr. Parnell, is like inventing a machine and forgetting to make allowance for the friction. Our kinsmen of the United States have taken into the Federal Cabinet ex-Confederate officials. We mave over the Government of Canada, not merely to agitators, but to men who had fought us with

This morning's News, in a double-leaded leader, lectures the Queen on the rumor which it says 'we find is generally accepted in political circles, that she is insisting on Lord Salisbury remaining in office. then alludes to another rumor, that she will not send for Gladstone, and hopes that she will not 'cast so marked a slight, not only upon a great statesman who has served her through half a century, but upon the public opinion emphatically expressed in the general election. Alluding to mention of Parnell in the Cabinet, it says : "If he accepts office under the English Government his influence is gone.

London, January 29. -The Forinightly Review publishes a political article which is generally supposed to reflect the views of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain on the present crisis. The writer expresses great regret at the timidity of the Whigs, who seem to be afraid to face the land question. Their opposition, he says, foiled a former attempt to settle this great issue, and he urges them. to reconsider the whole subject now. The writer says he thinks a few months will reveal dissensions which he maintains are now dormant in the Nationalist party, and intimates that a falling off in the American donations to the League treasury will bring Mr Parnell to the point of conforming his demands to what Englishmen may justly grant. In conclusion the writer says that if England over yields to the Irish demand for a native Parliament, she will have no guarantee against an eventual separation of Ireland from Great Britain. New York, January 20. - The Tribune's cable special from London of January 28th gives the opinions on the crisis by several Irish leaders. Justin McCarthy, Vice-Chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, says The prospect for Ireland is most hopeful. Whatever way the issue shall turn between the great Imperial parties, both White and Tories are now committed to giving the Irish legislative question precedence over all others. The Queen would like to see a coalition between the Tories and Whigs, as she is averse to conceding the Irish demands and has a personal antipathy to Gladstone. Nevertheless, I have little doubt that Gladstone will be summoned to Osborne, and that if he is he will be able to form a Ministry canable of carrying out his British policy. T. P. O'Conner, President of the Irish National League of Great Britain, says Some Liberals are shaky because they fear that the country is not prepared for Gladstone's home rule programme, but this fear is exaggerated. The Liberals who think this mistake the sentiment of London for that of England. The English constituencies have ever had the cass against the act of union presented to them, and that case is so overwhelmingly strong that, especially when Gladstone advocates the measure, it will turn the tide completely.

William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, says: The talk of the Queen asking Lord Hartington to form a Ministry has became ludicrous in view of the few Liberals who followed him in yoting with the Government on Tuesday night, and the still fewer men whom he could count on to support his Cabinet. Gladstone must be sent for, and he will have no difficity in forming a strong Cabinet, united on a radical programme for Ireland. With such a Cabinet I look upon Home Rule as at hand. It is Gladstone's ambition to close his career with the settlement of the Irish question by establishing a Parliament in Dublin. T. M. Healy Member of Parliament for Londonderry, says : While there is no doubt that the Government have resigned, it is by no means certain that the Queen will accept All the continent except Russia regrets their resignations. For several ressons she will prefer to dissolve Parliament and trust to fortune to give a Tory majority in the new House after another general election. 1 the wants of many students of Chinese NAUTICAL, SCIENTIFIC AND caused by the discontinuance of 'Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Thirteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are appermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc.; of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. > do well to patronise. - Chrysanthemum. 'The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety that usual, but the few articles are very interes ting. The opening paper by Mr Herber A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chi nese" treats of a question that must neces sarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. . . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Emwhich will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices New Books and a number of Notes and uorice, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Borned and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number. -H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bostowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Quetoms' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, 14 is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a uneful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to lusure
